Just choose a Fuzzoodle, pick a part, and watch your creations come to life.
Let's jump right in and start creating! Here are the three simple steps for making your first Fuzzoodle. Once you master these basic steps, you can customize your creation using the ideas at the bottom of this page or the tips and techniques on the next page.

1. INSERT Fuzzoodle™ into a base
Bend a long Fuzzoodle in half.

INSERT each end into a hole in the top of the base.

Hint: Try combining two short Fuzzoodles to make one long one. There's no wrong way to Fuzzoodle!

2. Add eyes and TWIST
First, insert eye hook in between the bent Fuzzoodle.
Then, PINCH the Fuzzoodle tightly against the hook. Now hold the eyes with one hand, grip the Fuzzoodle below the eyes with the other hand, and TWIST once. (Check out the TWIST technique on the next page if you need help.)

3. TWIST again & add a tiara
Slide or snap on a tiara above the eyes. Your Fuzzoodle should now be ready to play! (Check out the DOUBLE UP technique on the next page if you need help.)

Hint: Grip the hook! Hold onto the hook of the Fuzzoodle feature with one hand while you TWIST the Fuzzoodle with the other hand.

Hint: The eyes will now be facing the opposite direction of the base. Don't worry, we'll fix it in step 3!

Fuzz Words: ADDitude
Add accessories, WRAP on Fuzzoodle arms, and bend the legs to give your creation some attitude!

Fuzz Words: The Flip Side
Change it up! Try flipping parts like mouths and eyes upside down to change your Fuzzoodle's mood! Hint: You may need to loosen the TWIST to allow the parts to flip easily.
Here are some basic techniques for shaping and connecting your Fuzzoodle parts and pieces.

FUZZOODLE™ 2 FUZZOODLE™

TWIRL
Place two Fuzzoodles side by side and twist in opposite directions. Great for connecting your Fuzzoodles or building stems, snakes, ropes and more.

COIL
Wind a Fuzzoodle around your finger, a pencil, a marker, or another Fuzzoodle for a perfect COIL. You can use this technique to make a fluffy body around a Fuzzoodle spine. If you like, you can slide the COIL off.

LOOP
LOOP a Fuzzoodle around another Fuzzoodle as shown. Make sure to LOOP it snugly to the other Fuzzoodle. Ideal for adding arms or legs to your creation.

PLANTING YOUR FEET

INSERT
INSERT the ends of a Fuzzoodle into the holes in the top of a base.

WEAVE
Place an end of a Fuzzoodle into the space between the shoes and WEAVE in and out of the open space.

Fuzz For Thought:
What would your Fuzzoodle look like if it had two sets of eyes? Or just one arm?
HOW TO HOOK

WRAP
Slide a hooked feature onto a Fuzzoodle, leaving a few inches on one side. Then WRAP that side around the hook snugly.

PINCH
Insert a hooked feature through a bent Fuzzoodle. Then just PINCH the sides of the Fuzzoodle together to hold the hook in place.

LATCH
Insert a hooked feature between two Fuzzoodles, or through one bent Fuzzoodle. Then slide another Fuzzoodle through the hook. Then LOOP the ends above and below to make a thick body or head.

TWIST
Insert a hooked feature and PINCH tightly as shown in the PINCH technique. Now hold the hook with one hand, grip the Fuzzoodle below the feature with the other hand, and TWIST once.

ADDING ACCESSORIES

DOUBLE UP
Accessories can slide onto a Fuzzoodle a number of ways, but for a firm fit try snapping them on over two Fuzzoodles at once.

COMBINATION
Features and accessories can be bound together by a latched or wrapped Fuzzoodle to make a whole new look.

Fuzz For Thought:
If your Fuzzoodle had a name, what would it be? If your Fuzzoodle could talk, what would it sound like?
PROJECT 2: MEDIUM

1. WRAP to add eyes
Choose one long Fuzzoodle and use the WRAP technique to attach the eyes, leaving a few extra inches of the Fuzzoodle at the top for the ears. Make a small loop from the bottom Fuzzoodle to make a nose.

Hint: You can choose any eyes or features you want!

2. Bend and TWIRL
Next, bend the Fuzzoodle into the shape shown. Don't worry if it doesn't match the picture exactly, it's your unique creation! Maybe your Fuzzoodle has a longer tail and a shorter neck; it's up to you! Then TWIRL the ends together to form the ears.

What you need:
- black x 4
- white x 1

3. LOOP to add legs
Now, choose two short Fuzzoodles and use the LOOP technique to add the legs. Squeeze them snugly around the spine. Then, bend the ends to make feet.

4. COIL the body
Choose two short Fuzzoodles (or one long one) and use the COIL technique to form the body around the spine. What a cute fuzzy friend!

Hint: You can try adding bigger ears, a longer tail, or even a leash using more Fuzzoodles.

Fuzz Words: Swap Meet
You can swap out eyes and other parts for a totally different look.

Fuzz Words: Transform
Try transforming your four-legged friend into a two-legged pal with fuzzy arms! Just bend until upright and add a base.
DIVA DOLL

Here's an idea that combines a few more techniques plus some flexible Fuzzoodling! How many variations can you make using different parts and colors?

1. INSERT Fuzzoodle™ into a base
   - Bend a long Fuzzoodle in half.
   - INSERT each end into a hole in the top of the base.

2. WRAP and COIL
   - Choose a long Fuzzoodle and use the WRAP technique to attach the eyes. Leave a few inches at the top and bottom. Bend the top section as shown.
   - Then, COIL the bottom section of the Fuzzoodle tightly around the Fuzzoodle from step 1 to attach the head.

3. LOOP to attach arms
   - Choose two short Fuzzoodles and LOOP the ends of them around the body, leaving a few inches for arms.

4. Add accessories
   - Choose two short Fuzzoodles, link them together and drape around her shoulders for a scarf.
   - Then add a skirt and a tiara using the DOUBLE UP technique. Ta-da!

Hint: With just a few twists you can change your Fuzzoodle's hair style!

Hint: Imagine a photo session with your Fuzzoodle as the model. Just bend, pose, and snap a picture!

Fuzz Words: Strike a Pose
Flex, bend, and pose your creation to bring it to life! A new pose can give your character a whole new style!

Caution: Fuzzoodles™ can be used over and over again to create different characters, however, if they are bent or twisted aggressively and repeatedly in the same location, they can break. If your Fuzzoodle™ breaks, ask an adult to repair it for you. Using pliers, fold over the broken ends of the Fuzzoodle™ and squeeze tightly to tuck the internal wires into the plush material. Repaired Fuzzoodles™ should be carefully inspected by an adult to make sure that the wire ends are not exposed.

Broken Fuzzoodles™ which are not repaired properly should be thrown away because the broken ends will be very sharp.

Sizes, colors and contents may vary. Product duplication for illustration purposes only. Some pieces sold separately. Patent pending.
