GET READY!
Place all of your materials on a flat surface.

GET SET!
Think about the color scheme you would like to use for your first bangle. There are lots of ribbons to choose from, so pick out as many as you like!

Stick down pieces of double stick tape all around the inside and outside of your bangle. Leave the paper backing on for now.

Peel off the paper backing on one of the pieces of tape on the inside of your bangle. Stick down your first piece of ribbon. Now wrap the ribbon around the bangle! Peel off the paper backing from the tape as you wrap.

HINT: Pull your ribbons tight as you wrap. Loose ribbons will wrinkle and bunch! If your ribbon is slipping, tack it down with another piece of tape!

Change your ribbons to give your bangle a cool layered look!

To change ribbons, snip off the ribbon you are currently wrapping when it is on the inside of the bangle. Stick down the end with tape. Now put another piece of tape over the ribbon end and start wrapping again! To cover up the bangle completely, overlap your layers a little. You can also let a stripe of the bangle show through.

Keep wrapping until you reach your starting point. Snip the ribbon when it is on the inside of the bangle and stick the end down with tape.

To seal your ribbons in place, spread glue all over the inside of your bangle making sure to glue over every end.

Wait for the glue to dry completely before wearing!
